- May 14 1951 Directive of Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall
- Establishes the Armed Services Technical Information Agency (ASTIA)
 - Joint project ... with the responsibility of providing an integrated program of scientific and technical report services for the Department of Defense and its contractors.
 - "The decision to launch this undertaking was based upon recognition of the fact that the end product of all Department of Defense sponsored research and development --i.e., the recorded conclusions-- costing vast sums of money and irreplaceable scientific effort, must be assembled, organized, preserved, and made available for future reference by those concerned with exploring and guarding the scientific frontiers of the Nation."

DFARS Part 235

R&D Contracting Clauses

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

235.010 Scientific and technical reports.

(b) For DoD, the Defense Technical Information Center is responsible for collecting all scientific and technical reports. For access to these reports, follow the procedures at PGI 235.010(b).

PGI 235.010 Scientific and technical reports.

(b) The Defense Technical Information Center (DTIC) is responsible for collecting all scientific or technological observations, findings, recommendations, and results derived from DoD endeavors, including both in-house and contracted efforts.

The DTIC has eligibility and registration requirements for use of its services. Requests for eligibility and registration information should be addressed to DTIC-BC Registration, 8725 John J. Kingman Road, Fort Belvoir, VA 22060-6218, or may be obtained at <http://www.dtic.mil>.

STIP Benefits for DoD

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- Leverages results to maximize large investment in DoD research & engineering
- Prevents unnecessary or redundant research
- Ensures S&T information is only accessible to those who should have it
- Enables the conversion of completed research into the production of mature technology

Real advantages...not just regulations

STIP Benefits for the R&D Community

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- Facilitate technology transfer and technology transition
- Reduce duplication of effort to maximize resources
- Identify potential sources of funding support
- Locate collaborators, technical support and expertise

Track and link related work

- “Paperless” archive
 - Digitization
 - Online full-text 24/7 access
- Administrative & document management cost savings
 - catalogs and indexes
 - handles secondary dissemination and authorizes dissemination of restricted documents
 - ensures secure, long-term storage and preservation
- Announces capabilities and technologies known to appropriate, authorized audiences

Ensuring Preservation

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- New input converted to full-text electronic documents
- Archival collection digitized
- Handles assigned for persistent identification
 - Presently only for public release reports
- Digital copy stored off-site

Public Release Outlets

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- Wide distribution of public release

- National Technical Information Service (NTIS) www.ntis.gov
- Online Computer Library Center (OCLC) www.oclc.org
Combined catalog of 1 billion unique titles held by 53,548 libraries in 96 countries
- Open Archives Initiative (OAI)

Controlled Secondary Distribution

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- DTIC matches:
 - User Registration Authorization
 - Classification and distribution statement markings
- Therefore, all documents and research summaries submitted to DTIC must have a distribution statement.

Controlled Secondary Distribution

Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium Acquisition and Life Cycle Management Symposium

- DoDD 5230.24 Distribution Statements on Technical Documents
 - Release of technical documents provided after primary distribution by other than the originator or controlling office.
 - Includes loaning, allowing the reading of, or releasing a document outright, in whole or in part.
- DoD standard & uniform management approach
 - Common frame of reference and vocabulary
 - For controlling offices that must assign distribution statements and review other requests for release
 - For recipients who need to understand their OPSEC/INFOSEC responsibilities in handling the data
 - Fosters sharing and safeguarding information
